

Board Of Regents Takes Action On Pres. C. H. Becker's Resignation

Members of the Board of Regents met in session last Monday to act on Dr. C. H. Becker's resignation as president of Wartburg College.

Board members made Dr. Becker President Emeritus of Wartburg College effective Sept. 1, 1964. It also elected a committee of five for identifying and screening candidates for the office of college president.

Chairman of the committee is Dr. Walter G. Voecks, chairman of the Board of Regents. Other members are Dean Winkjer, Wiliston, N.D.; Dr. Louis Belk, LeMars; Fred Lentz, Beatrice, Neb.; and the Rev. Dean Kilgust, Green Bay, Wis.

The Board also requested that an advisory committee from the faculty be elected by faculty members. This was done at a faculty meeting Monday night.

The Rev. August Baetke, Sociology Department, is chairman. Committee members are G. Rudolph Bjorgan, History Department; Melvin Kramer, Business Department; Dr. Herbert Max, Education Department.

Dr. Robert Dell, Dr. Edwin Schick and Dr. Karl Schmidt, all from the Religion Department.

Alumni may also nominate candidates, and the Rev. Donald Loots of Mason City, president of the Wartburg Alumni Association, was asked to attend the board meeting and to consult with the Regents.

Also passed was a resolution that during Dr. Becker's absence and/or until a new president is installed, the duties of the office of the president shall be vested in a President's Interim Committee.

Committee members consist of Dean of Faculty John Chellevoid, Assistant to the President in Public Relations the Rev. Merritt L. Bomhoff and Assistant to the President in Business Affairs, Walter Fredrick Jr.

This committee shall function jointly; the decision of any two members shall bind the committee, according to the resolution.

Dr. Chellevoid will act as chairman. In accordance with decisions of the committee he shall be authorized to execute documents.

Although called together primarily for the above business, the members of the Board of Regents handled some other routine legal matters.

Pres. Becker Returns Home After Illness

Pres. C. H. Becker returned home yesterday after spending a couple of weeks at St. Mary's Hospital in Rochester, Minn.

Dr. Becker contracted an infection while recuperating from a heart attack suffered in December.

President Becker is confined to his home for convalescence.

Band Tour To Begin April 4

Wartburg concert band will begin its annual spring concert tour Saturday, April 4, with Denver, Colo., being its farthest goal.

Leaving the campus Saturday morning, the band's opening concert will be at Le Mars, Saturday evening. Sunday the band will be in Newman Grove, Neb., and Monday's concert is scheduled at Gimbail, Neb.

Kansas is next in line with a concert at Goodland on Tuesday.

Wednesday evening, the band will play at Greeley, Colo. Thursday, band members will be free to tour in Denver, playing an evening concert in the Denver area.

Friday, April 10, will start the return trip with a performance at Phillipsburg, Kan. Saturday's concert will be presented at Deshler, Neb. and Sunday's performance, the final road concert, will be played at Treynor.

The band will then return for a home concert to be presented in the Chapel-auditorium, Monday evening, April 13.

This year's concert program will be varied. Ron Burrichter and Jim Tjaden, seniors, George Curtis, sophomore, and Art Alt and Dick Moeller, freshmen, will be featured soloists.

Tour manager for the band is Harold G. Becker, Director of Church Relations.

Tomorrow the band will present a pre-tour concert at Johnston High School in the Des Moines area.

Al Hirt Tickets Go On Sale Friday

Al Hirt Sextet featuring Al Hirt and his golden trumpet will appear at Wartburg for the Spring Pops Concert on April 15.

Tickets for this event will go on sale Friday. However, this time they will be sold exclusively to college students from March 13 to March 23 through the dorm representatives.

After March 23, no more tickets will be sold on campus and the excess tickets will be sold to residents of the Waverly area.

Ticket prices will be the same as for Fall Pops Concert. As in the past, there will be no reserved seats.

Community Orchestra To Present Concert

Wartburg Community Symphony Orchestra will present its final concert of the year Sunday, March 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the Chapel-auditorium.

Half of the program for this Young People's Concert is in conjunction with Spiritual Emphasis Week. Performed will be "The Psalm of David," with Dr. James Fritschel, Music Department, as conductor.

This composition, which is based on Psalm 51, will comprise this part of the program. This work by Norman Dello Joio provides a brilliant setting for strings, brass, percussion and chorus.

Chorus is composed of members of Castle Singers and Wartburg Choir, approximately one hundred and twenty voices.

Featured oboe soloist during the concert will be John E. Bentley, woodwind specialist on the Wartburg music faculty, who will play Wayne Barlow's "Winners Passed."

Another number on the program is "Overture in the Underworld" by Jaques Offenbach. Robert E. Lee, conductor of the orchestra, said this is one of the most attractive numbers in orchestral literature.

Offenbach's work ends with his famous "Can-Can." Assistant conductor Bentley will conduct. "Symphony No. 1," a composition written by William Boyce.

Improvements Made In Caf.

Work is being done in the cafeteria to change the stereotyped menus now in existence by introducing a new variety of foods.

Mrs. Loreen Grube, manager of the cafeteria, Walter Fredrick Jr., business manager for the college, and Ron Burrichter, senior member of a committee formed to voice student complaints about the cafeteria, are working together to make up the new menus.

Cleaner silverware, ways of improving the decor of the dining area, way of alleviating noon-time rush, having self-service milk machines and more eggs for breakfast are among other points under consideration.

Mrs. Grube has indicated to the committee that she will be happy to feed anyone who has a legitimate excuse for missing a meal if he will come to the back of the kitchen and ask her.

The committee would also like to urge the students to make their complaints known so that something can be done in the right way about them.

Complications Of Man's Maturity Will Be Discussed During SEW

Complications of achieving maturity are part of the discussions for Spiritual Emphasis Week. Theme for the week is "Toward Authentic Maturity."

Complications of maturity express the dilemma that man finds himself in with relationship to himself.

No one can say that he is completely matured, yet each strives to work in the direction of maturity.

The purpose of Spiritual Emphasis Week is not so much to offer easy solutions to the complicated problem of maturity, but rather to help each person wrestle with the issue in his own individual way.

Speakers for the week's activities are Dr. Josef W. Fox, professor of English at State College of Iowa in Cedar Falls, and Dr. William E. Hulme, professor of Pastoral Counseling at Wartburg Seminary, Dubuque.

Dr. William Hulme

Each will present his view as to how maturity can be best reached. Dr. Fox will be taking the viewpoint that God is not a necessity, and Dr. Hulme's position is that God is a necessity to basic maturity.

After convo Tuesday, Dr. Fox will visit a Christian Faith and Life class at noon, a philosophy class at 3 p.m., and a world literature class at 4 p.m.

At 6:30 p.m. he will lead a question and answer period in the Chapel-auditorium.

At 10 p.m. dormitory discussions will be held in various on-campus units. Dr. Phillip Kildahl, English Department, will be at Wartburg Hall; Dr. Edwin Schick, Religion Department, at Grossmann; and Dr. Karl Schmidt, Religion Department, at Clinton Hall.

Dr. Hulme will be available for personal counseling Wednesday afternoon in the small lounge on the main floor of Wartburg Hall. At 6:30 p.m. he will lead meditation at Chapel in the Chapel-auditorium.

At 10 p.m. Wednesday, discussions will be held in the dormitories similar to those earlier. Dr. James Fritschel, Music Department, will lead the discussion in Hebron Hall, and Dr. Karl Schmidt, Religion Department, will be at Vollmer Hall and Centennial Hall.

After convo on Thursday, Dr. Hulme will again be available for counseling in the small lounge in Wartburg Hall. Dr. F. A. Gumz, Philosophy Department, will lead Chapel at 6:30 p.m. in the Chapel-auditorium.

"R.U.R.," a melodrama, will be presented on Thursday, Friday and Saturday by the Wartburg Players in the Chapel-auditorium.

Action takes place several decades in the future on an island somewhere on this planet. The more immediate action occurs in the central office of the company of Rossum's Universal Robots.

During the play, the highly developed and nearly perfected robots take over the world, killing all humans except one.

During the dramatic epilogue, the remaining human discovers two humanized robots who have a bit of Adam and Eve in them, indicating that mankind is to regenerate.

John Gill of the speech department describes the play as, "A magnificent melodrama superbly portrayed with a handful of humans held at bay while myriads of their own robots close in on them."

Leading roles will be played by senior Delma Froidcoeur and Allen Lyndrup, freshman. Others in the play are seniors Nancy Keel and Al Sandau; and juniors Bernd Samland, David Kildahl, Kathryn Becker and Bob Bone.

Sophomores Elizabeth Bomhoff and Norma Gray, and freshmen Mike Bradshaw and James Ludwig will also appear.

Dr. Robert Dell, Religion Department, will be guest speaker at Sunday's worship service.

Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. a concert, "The Psalm of David," will be presented by the combined Wartburg Choirs of 1963 and 1964, Castle Singers and Wartburg Community Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Dr. James Fritschel.

The concert is tentatively scheduled for Knights Gymnasium.

Completing Sunday's activities will be a panel discussion of "R.U.R." in Clinton Hall Lounge at 7:45 p.m.

The panel, sponsored by the LSA, will be composed of John Gill, director of the play, Dr. Robert Dell, Religion Department, and John Solensten of the English Department.

Final activity will be a communion service. This month's communion will be celebrated in connection with SEW on Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Chapel-auditorium.

Helena Glory, played by Delma Froidcoeur, left, Harry Domin, enacted by Al Lindthorp, and Nancy Keel playing Hallemeyer will appear Thursday, Friday and Saturday in "R.U.R."

$$$

Most Wartburg students cannot imagine one million dollars. Some cannot imagine one hundred dollars and there are even some of us who dream about a ten-dollar bill. Wartburg students probably think that a sum like a million dollars is as remote as can be, but it isn't.

In the 1963 fiscal year, Wartburg College had an income of $1,705,061.60. Expenses were $1,712,995.56. A budget reaching almost two million dollars makes one wonder where it all comes from and where it all goes.

Endowment income totaled $8,214.44. Money from the American Lutheran Church which was given the college as subsidy was $144,500. Grants and gifts were $123,221.43 and auxiliary enterprises were $599,088.80.

The Development Office and the Wartburg Alumni Association raised $164,554.49, which includes $30,364.71 from the Wartburg College Alumni Association.

Assets of the college which include current funds, loan funds, endowment funds and plant funds are $5,480,486.42. This is certainly more than the college student could ever imagine having in his wallet.

However, it takes quite an amount of money to operate a college. General administration cost $367,395.27; organized activities were $59,948.47 and student aid was $92,187.25.

Salaries were $753,574.22, debt retirement, $60,868.00 and auxiliary enterprises were $437,268.98.

Perhaps we can imagine just a few of the headaches the personnel in the treasurer's office must have, as well as our business manager, Walter Fredrick.

An aimless walk ordinarily would seem quite inexpensive, but if done in Waverly after 11 p.m., it costs $13.

It seems some girls mistakenly think our current convocation series is on textiles. They come equipped with knitting needles and yarn.

So many people have taken up the anti-conformists' league (slogan — stamp out ticky tacky) that now the situation is right back where it started.

Nominations Open Today For Student Govt. Offices

By Nelson Meyer
Student Body President

Nominations for student body president, vice president, secretary and treasurer open today and close Friday.

Requirements are:

1. He must be a junior.
2. He must have a 2.5 grade point for the last three semesters, the last one of which he must have been enrolled at Wartburg.

These are the only requirements and they allow a great many students to be eligible for these positions. Because these offices are important, I hope that many students will run for them.

Experience is not a necessity. If you have a desire to work in student government, and can fulfill the above requirements, you have all that is necessary to become a candidate.

All you have to do is to come

in to Fuchs Lounge before Friday and fill out the nomination form.

Time is getting short, so think it over. If you have any interest in student government at all, here is your chance to show it.

Film Of Novelist Zola Shows Dynamic Figure

By Sue Kell

French novelist Emile Zola emerged as a dynamic, dramatic and inspiring figure in the biographical film shown Wednesday.

Actor Paul Muni did an excellent job in his portrayal of Zola. The unique personality of Zola was fully revealed, and the spontaneity of his manner and frankness of his approach were especially appealing.

Admittedly Zola was somewhat idealized but in the movie industry this is to be expected.

BECKER'S BANTER

Ego Deflating's Fun Until It Backfires

By Kathryn Becker

Every week it's the same thing. What shall I write about? Whose ego-balloon should I deflate today? It gets to be a real problem. (If I were trying to impress you I would use the word challenge, but I'm beyond that). The agony I go through!

Often it's a process of elimination when hunting for a subject, theme or target. Sometimes just an elimination of people. If I'm not careful, I'll run out of complaints. But never out of people.

The administration and faculty will take just so much before they start to cut you down for cutting them down. Like looking the other way when you pass on the sidewalk. Or giving you an unbelieving expression when you show them your nurse's excuse.

But the absolute lowest, the one that really hurts, is when they barge ahead of you to give their order in the den. The only one that ever called me down was the President. But I got around that. I just said, "I'll tell my mother on you."

Previous columnists have acted as detectives, ferreting out current college crises. They were junior John Birchers. Crusaders for college students and their special problems. Either they were intellectual or part of the underground.

Not me. I'm strictly top soil. Always do things the hard way. I dig into the recesses of my own mind and bring forth all sorts of thoughts and experiences. Then I write them down to save you the bother of having to blunder through life making any more mistakes than necessary. Thoughtful of me, isn't it? And great fun.

Of course there's the ever-present problem of censoring that looms over my head. Surprisingly everyone has been quite good about it. About not doing it, I mean. There were a few things; like the time . . . .

Occasionally I turn to my fellow students for suggestions. This is always a mistake. Either they are devoid of any original ideas or just completely devoid. They're like a puddle; when I step on them, all they do is splash.

Then there's the matter of deadline. I contend I work best under pressure. (It's the only way I've ever worked.) Never do today what you can put off until it's overdue. (But I don't have to tell you that — you're students, too.)

The column is continually uppermost in my mind. All other matters are pushed aside. Like classes, term papers, convo, etc. But not people, because it's my relationship with people that provides most of my "material." (Smile, you're in candid column!)

Perhaps you don't always understand what I write. Don't let it worry you. Sometimes I'm too deep for me, too.

Becker

Social Work Majors Start Field Observing

Twenty-one senior social work majors began field observation earlier this semester. Serving one afternoon each week, the students will gain first-hand knowledge of the functions of the agency in which they are placed.

Actual experience is acquired in attending regular staff meetings and performing tasks related to the welfare of the people coming to the agency.

11 Initiated Into Tri-Beta

Eleven Wartburg students were initiated into the school's Gamma Lambda chapter of Beta Beta Beta, national biological honor society, yesterday.

They were feted at a banquet at the Waterloo Municipal Airport.

New members are sophomores James Fuchs, Mary Amdall, John Witgert, Kathe Mensing, Sharon Cox, Ruth Murray and Lavern Stille.

Juniors are Royce Kruehl, Arlyn Ristau and Nancy Rahn. Larry Stille, senior, was also initiated.

Open Forum Convo Set For March 19

Student Welfare Committee is sponsoring an open forum convocation on Thursday, March 19. Members of the Welfare Committee ask that students begin thinking now about questions which they would like answered by the panel.

Panel members will be teachers and an administrator of the college.

gaged in a special project related to group work.

According to Mrs. Lola Repert, Social Work Department, Wartburg is one of the few colleges to offer opportunity for field observation. "The practical experience of such a program simply cannot be reproduced in the classroom," she concluded.

"HEY, THAT MAIL doesn't go there," comments sophomore Dennis Brown to Bill Mantei, junior. They both admit there are a few trials to putting out the mail.

Playing Post Office Isn't Easy

By Norma Gray

"Hey! Don't you guys have the mail out yet? What are you doing back there?"

What a familiar Wartburg phrase. How many times have you heard it, or maybe even used it? It is evident that it is time for the students and faculty to stop a few minutes and consider the channels that their mail has to go through before it is slipped into their mail boxes.

Juniors Bill Mantei and Darrel Gerriets, heading a staff composed of sophomores Dennis Brown, John Mantey, Danny Harms and Ron Kuehl, explained that the campus post office operates on a schedule just as any well-organized group does.

The mail is picked up at the Waverly post office at 9 a.m. every morning and brought to the campus post office, now situated in the Union lounge.

This mail includes letters and packages for the entire college, faculty, administration and business offices as well as students.

Correspondence is sorted into two divisions — faculty and student. One of the staff members is sent to Luther Hall to sort and distribute the mail there. Student mail is then re-sorted and placed into the individual mail boxes.

There is a need on the part of the students and faculty to realize that postal facilities at this time are crowded and it is often difficult for the men to operate at full capacity.

However, they strive to do their best, and it is only fair that we give them our full cooperation. Speedier service could be obtained if students would advise correspondents of their correct mailbox number.

Mantei reports that it is very possible that the post office will be moved to the new facilities by the end of March.

Hootenanny On Air

KWAR-FM is airing an all day "Hootenanny." The folk music began at 6 this morning and will continue until 1 a.m. tomorrow. As part of the day's activities, the station is broadcasting until 5 p.m. from the music corner in downtown Waverly.

Requests for any folk songs from the station's library will be accepted by simply calling Extensions 306 or 209.

Iowa Poetry Day Assn. Deadline Is March 10

Iowa Poetry Day Association is again sponsoring a poetry contest for students and adults with cash prizes in each division. Deadline for mailing all poems is Tuesday.

Adult contests include an Italian or Petrarchan sonnet division (14 lines) with a five-dollar award to the first-place winner. Entries for this division should be sent to Margaret J. Heinrich, 2614 E. Avenue N.E., Cedar Rapids.

Adult general contest also has a 16-line limit and offers a first-place award of five dollars. Entries for this division should also be submitted to Margaret J. Heinrich.

Entries in all divisions must be original manuscripts which have not been published or entered into any other contest. Poems must be sent typed in duplicate. Original copy must include author's name and address and permission to correct if necessary. Poems will not be returned.

Student contests are open to any college or school in Iowa. A cash award of five dollars will be given to the first-place winner in the college division.

A $50 scholarship will be awarded to the first-place in senior high school, 12th grade. (The winner must attend an Iowa college to be eligible.)

Certificates of award will be given to all first-place winners in the schools. Contest rules are the same as for adults. Permission to correct is not necessary for school poems. Poems must be mailed in duplicate with name, town, school, grade and name of instructor.

College poems should be sent to Fred R. Prusha, Little Cedar; senior high poems (grades 10, 11 and 12) to Agnes M. McAndrews, Lost Nation; junior high poems (grades 7, 8 and 9) to LaReta Bricker, Williamsburg; and elementary poems (grades 1-6) to Ellen R. Fenn, 420 W. 7th, Washington.

Buenning, Langrock, Medlang, Engelkes, Ridout End College BB Careers

By Gary Olson

Editor's note: Al Buenning has been named to the Iowa All-conference first team for the 1963-64 season. Dick Ridout received a place on the second team.

Five Wartburg seniors donned basketball armor of the Knights for the last time Saturday against arch-rival Luther. Knights Al Buenning, Dave Langrock, Garry Medlang, Jim Engelkes and Dick Ridout will no longer be answering the call of service to guard Wartburg's basketball portals.

Al Buenning
All-conference first team

Al Buenning started his basketball career when he was a sophomore in high school. "It seems odd," said Al, "that the first game of basketball that I ever saw was the one I played in when I was a sophomore."

He has come a long way since then. Just recently he grabbed 34 rebounds in the first game against Luther this season, setting a new record and breaking his old one of 29 set earlier this year.

This six-foot, four-inch center from Parkston, S.D., has played for Wartburg since his freshman year and has lettered all four years. Last year he played in the Tall Corn Tourney in Cedar Falls which Wartburg won.

During his senior year in high school, Al received all-state honorable mention.

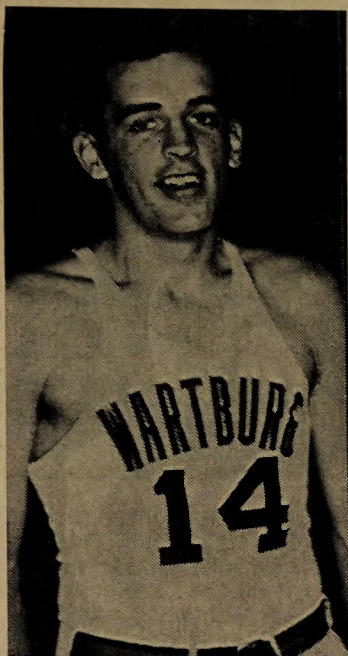

Currently a member of the W Club and the P.E. Club, Al recalls this year's 79-64 upset over league-leading Buena Vista as the most memorable game of his career.

Al is in secondary education with a physical education major. He also is minoring in biology and English.

"I consider it a privilege to have played and participated in basketball to the extent that I did. I never came here with the intent of playing," he said.

A transfer student from Ellsworth Junior College is shooting ace Dick Ridout. Dick, a 5'11" guard, has played and lettered all four years of his college career.

In his high school days at

Dick Ridout
Set scoring record

Ackley he was named to the all-conference first team and received all-state honorable mention. At Ellsworth he was awarded the honor of Outstanding Athlete and was also named to the Iowa Conference second team here last year.

"My most memorable game was the night I broke the scoring record," Dick recalled. That night against Cornell he scored 17 shots from the field for a total of 34 points.

Dick has been the offensive threat to many teams this season. His ability to hit from way out has caused some concern among rival teams. His long jump shot has become a trademark and a common occurrence to Wartburg fans.

Majoring in business administration, Dick plans to go into sales or management.

Garry Medlang
Played fourteen years

Garry Medlang has been playing basketball for 14 years. He first started playing organized ball when he was in seventh grade. In his senior year in high school he was named to the all-conference squad and was given all-state honorable mention.

Garry, a 5'10" guard from Joice, is also a four-year Wartburg veteran. He lettered his sophomore, junior and senior seasons.

Following his freshman year,

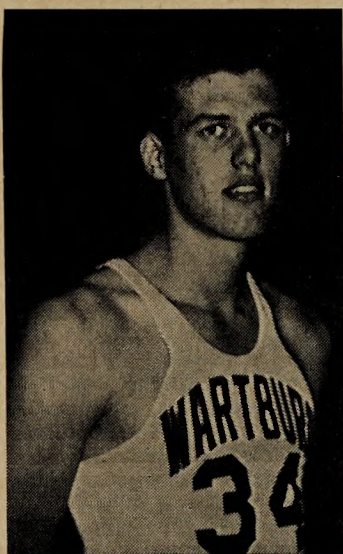

Garry dropped out of school to work. He came back and completed his sophomore year only to join the service for three years.

During this three year span he played basketball for his company's team. Then it was back to Wartburg for two more seasons of varsity play as the Knights' playmaker.

"My most rewarding experience in Wartburg basketball came last year when we won the Tall Corn Tourney," he said. He continued by saying "I enjoyed playing for the Knights because of the tremendous personnel, and the individuals with whom I was able to work."

"Although we didn't quite make our pre-season potential, we had a lot of close games that could have gone either way," he added.

Garry is majoring in business education with a P.E. minor. He will do his student teaching next semester and hopes to coach as well as teach.

Remembers Buena Vista upset

Jim Engelkes, 6'6" reserve center for the Knights, finished his second season of play for Wartburg this year. Before coming to Wartburg, Jim played two years with Ellsworth Junior College. He lettered there his sophomore year.

Jim started playing basketball in seventh grade and continued throughout high school where he lettered his last two seasons.

Buena Vista's 79-64 defeat at the hands of the Knights is the game he remembers most vividly.

Attending Wartburg from Ackley, Jim is majoring in business administration with hopes of securing a job in the field of management after graduation.

Also in his fourth year of basketball for Wartburg is Dave Langrock, a 5'11" guard from St. Ansgar. Probably better known on the baseball diamond than on the basketball court, Dave lettered once on the hard court.

In high school, Dave participated three years in football and four years in basketball, baseball and track. He received all-state honorable mention in basketball in his junior and senior years.

"I think the most exciting game, as I viewed them from the bench," Dave said, "was last year's Luther game here."

Presently Dave is majoring in physical education and minoring in biology. He is a member of the P.E. Club, W Club and S.E.A.

Dave is now doing his practice teaching in the Waverly school system. Upon graduation he plans to get a job coaching basketball or baseball.

3 To Attend Athletic Conf.

Several Women's Athletic Association members will attend the North Central Regional Athletic and Recreation Federation of College Women Conference Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Hotel Kirkwood in Des Moines.

Delegates for the convention are juniors Ardis Janssen and Anne Ager. Sharon Jensen, junior, will also attend.

The theme for the two-day convention is "Where Do We Go From Here?" Featured speakers include Dr. Eleanor Metheny, physical education instructor at the University of Southern California, and Patty Berg, woman golfer, who will hold a golf clinic.

Any other WAA members interested in attending this convention should contact Miss Ruth Meyer, Physical Education Department, to make arrangements as soon as possible.

Track Team Finishes 3rd At SCI

Wartburg Knights finished third in a dual track meet at State College of Iowa, Cedar Falls, Wednesday. Final score showed SCI 66, SCI Blue 36 and Wartburg 29.

The meet was originally set as a triangular with Luther, SCI and Wartburg. However, Luther dropped out and SCI broke its squad into Blue and Gold teams.

Speedsters Lothar Columbus, John Van Gerpen and Jerry Zehr were the Knights' only first place holders.

Columbus paced the mile in 4:41.4. Jerry Zehr, his first day out for track after basketball season, finished the 60-yd. low hurdles in 7.2 seconds. Van Gerpen finished the 80-yd. highs in 8.2 seconds.

The only second place for the Knights went to Lothar Columbus in the two-mile run. Jay Pritchard of SCI set a new record for the school with time of 9:36.6.

Third place finishers were Rodger Haynes, 60-yd. dash, Gayle Newlon, shot, and Wartburg in the eight lap relay. Bruce Kettner tied for third in the 880.

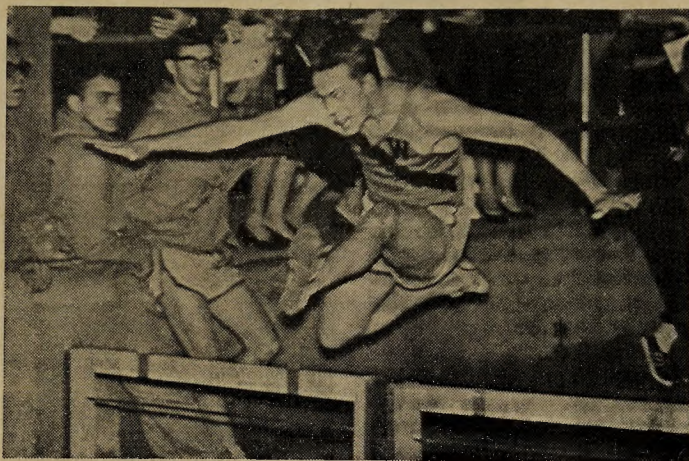

Fourth place went to Roger Palmer, mile run; Rodger Haynes, 440; and Jim Fliehler, pole vault. Joel Niemann tied for fourth in the high jump.

Coach Dave Olson is well pleased with the squad. He said that with continued improvement the outdoor season prospects look really good. Coach Olson also pointed out that the freshmen have been leading in the scoring columns.

In action last weekend, the cindermen got the spring sports season off to a good start with a 55-40 victory over Coe College.

Double-winner Lothar Columbus paced Wartburg as the Knights won 6 of 11 events and swept the two-mile run and the shot put.

In the two-mile sweep, Colum-

Sophomore Jerry Zehr grimaces as he goes flying over the hurdles at a track meet at Cedar Falls, Wednesday night. Zehr, his first day out for track after basketball season, finished in first place, with a time of 7.2 seconds.

Wartburg ended up in third place with 29 points.

bus was the winner with a time and Tom Baumgarten finished second and third respectively.

Gayle Newlon won the shot with a put of 39 feet 1 inch. Dennis Rubenow was second and Jim Woessner finished third.

Other first place winners for the Knights were Rodger Haynes in the 40-yd. dash and Bruce Kettner in the 880-yd. run. Columbus was first in the mile run, and Gary Leeper was winner of the high jump.

Ketha, Off-campus-Ott To Meet In Championship Playoff

By Dan Knobloch

I.M. basketball came to a close this week with Ketha House and Ott's Off-campus team winning the championship in their respective leagues.

Ketha Lamplighters pulled away from Vollmer House last Tuesday to clinch the Big Ten title. Vollmer gave the machine trouble all through the first half, but the Lamplighters began rolling in the second half, and the final score was 71-34.

The game was rugged with Ketha's superior weight on the boards making the difference. Mic Will, the 215 pound center for the Lamplighters, effectively clogged the lane and held Gerald Baldner scoreless.

Leon Carley was high point man for Ketha with 23, but he received plenty of support from Larry Dieterichs, Walt Buening, and the rest of the team. Orv McElfresh poured in two-thirds of Vollmer's points.

Orv had 22, most of them coming on long jump shots over Ketha's zone defense.

Lamplighters, now unbeaten in I.M. sports this year with three straight championships, meet Ott's Off-campus team this coming Tuesday for the inter-league play-off.

Ott's Off-campus team had quite a bit of trouble Thursday with North Hall II. The North Hallers, led by the hot shooting of Happy John Thalacker and the ball handling of Coon Muehling, were ahead 13-10 after the first quarter and trailed 21-18 at the half. Thalacker, the jump-shot king, hit thirteen of his fifteen point total in the first half.

Bob Matthias, sitting out most of the second half, was held to five points. Doug Miller was high for Off-campus with 15. The final score was 57-34.

In the other games played this week, Married Men beat Meyer House 71-64. Bill Andregg hit 27 for the Married Men. Clinton II rolled over Grossmann I 108-51, to clinch second place in the Mighty Nine.

Rich Medlar, Bill Buening and Ross Chambers scored 23, 22 and 19 respectively for Clinton II. Alpha took Clinton I 71-65. Off-campus Fredrick fell to North Hall I 62-55 and Clinton III beat Clinton Basement 55-40.

Grossmann II took Meyer House 76-50, Married Men edged out North Hall I 47-46 in a real thriller, Grossmann I beat Grossmann Basement 57-56 in another close game and Clinton II took Grossmann III 56-45.

Other I.M. sports are beginning soon. I.M. bowling began this morning and sign-up sheets are up for I.M. wrestling, pool, table tennis and coed volleyball.

Dave Langrock, I.M. chairman, announced that the sign-up sheets posted in the union will be taken down tomorrow and urged everyone interested to sign up.

Knights Bow To Luther; Close Season, Tied For 4th

By Harry Jebson

BAH! HUMBUG! Gone, a chance for a winning season, a chance to tie up points in the battle for the axe and a chance for a fourth place finish in the Iowa Conference. All this gone on the 87-77 dashing the Knights suffered in the "crackerbox" at Luther.

Knights suffered from chronic "missitis" the first half, hitting only 24.9 per cent of their shots from the floor to go behind at half time 49-38. Meanwhile the Norskies shot a respectable 42 per cent to take the lead on the Wartburg squad.

Action was fast and furious all the game long. The referees were kept especially busy blowing their whistles. Both teams piled up 14 fouls the first half.

Opening action was close for the first part of the half. When the clock broke down with 15:16 remaining in the first half, the Norse led 14-12.

Luther slowly opened a seven point lead which it maintained until the last minute when the Vikings poured in three baskets to stretch the lead to 11 points.

Knights missed a chance in the first half to cut the Norse lead in half. Al Buening was fouled by Marlyn Baum. When Baum protested the call, a technical foul was called, giving the Knights a chance to make five points. However Buening missed his first free throw, thus losing the one and one. Dick Ridout made the technical shot, but the Knights failed to capitalize on the possession of the ball which they gained through the foul. They thus made one point where they had a chance for five.

Second half saw the Knights charge back to tie up the game 62 all, only to see victory slip out of their hands. Luther, whose entire starting front line had fouled out, maintained its poise and fended off the Knights' attack to come out victorious 87-77.

For the season the Knights ended up 11-12 in over-all play and 8-8 in the Iowa Conference. Last year they finished 12-13 over-all and 8-10 in the conference.

Norse Champs For 4th Year

Luther College, for the fourth straight year, will reign as conference champions of the mat. Knights must settle for their fourth-straight runner-up place.

Wartburg, with 47 points, finished a distant second to Luther which brought home four individual champions and 66 points. Host team Upper Iowa finished third with 37 and Simpson a close fourth with 36 points.

Dubuque could come up with only 31 points and Iowa Wesleyan rounded out the scoring with 17.

Mike Tower was Wartburg's lone champion. Tower decisioned Bob Wellner of Luther 4-1 for the 137 lb. championship.

Lee Sill, Upper Iowa, stopped Bernie Maskers bid for championship honors in the final match 5-0.

Other place winners for Wartburg were Roger Damrow, Dave Hutson, Larry Snitker, Terry Tellefson, and Duane Huth. All finished in third place.

Becker Picks Best For I.M. All-Stars

By Mike Becker

In picking my all-conference I.M. teams, I took more than scoring ability into consideration. Rebounding, passing and contributing to a team effort were also given considerable attention. Not being too familiar with The Mighty Nine, I consulted several players, referees and the scorebook. There were a total of four freshmen on the four all-conference teams. Clinton II was the top position grabber, placing three men on the top two teams in their conference. Both first teams possess deadly shooters and rugged rebounders, with the edge going to the Big Ten.

Perhaps the biggest surprise to the Wartburg fans Saturday night was a rather familiar sight, the Vollmer House bell. This was purloined by the lightfingered Luther lads the night before. For a while the most interesting battle appeared to be the one about to take place over the bell until things were quieted down.

This was one game that couldn't really be blamed on the coaches, I don't think. We were beaten by a team that came to play ball. A freshman finally beat us with six points in the last two minutes.

I would like to single out Cliff Cameron for his fine effort. This was one of the best games I've seen Cliff play this year on the boards. At times he appeared to be our only rebounder and really kept us in the game many a time.

The grapplers closed out their season with their traditional second-place conference finish. This is the fourth year in a row that we have placed second to Luther in the conference tourney.

Everyone on the team finished first, second or third with one exception, who wound up in a pretty tough weight class. Mike Tower was our lone champion, while the other Tama terror, Bernie Masker, took second in his division. Roger Damrow, Dave Hutson, Larry Snitker, Terry Tellefson and Duane Huth, all won consolation championships. Congratulations to all.

NAACP Representatives Speak To Students About Civil Rights

Raymond Miland and Ruth Olivier, representatives of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, spoke to approximately one hundred Wartburg students Wednesday, Feb. 26 on the Civil Rights Bill and related issues.

The meeting and discussion with these two Negroes, who were brought to this campus at the instigation of the Wartburg Student Congregation deacons, was held in the Chapel-auditorium.

Miland, a school social worker in Waterloo, addressed the group before answering questions. Mrs. Olivier, head of the public welfare department in Waterloo, is currently on the Iowa governor's board of human rights.

Miland frankly discussed discrimination. He asked his hearers to be realistic and to "accept the fact there is discrimination and prejudice everywhere."

He continued by saying the position of the Negro as far as receiving acceptance as a first-class Negro is no different in Waterloo than in the South.

As Negroes have moved to our larger cities, white people have moved to the suburbs. Negroes now have enough money to purchase housing; yet whites avoid Negroes wherever they go.

Miland called this circumstance a "ghetto wall" and compared it with the Berlin wall. The ghetto wall is an invisible but formidable wall. "Negroes live where the white man leaves space for them."

Discrimination is just a word for whites, whereas it is a fact of life for the Negro. The speaker characterized Iowa as being complacent.

Negroes are scattered throughout the state; for them "all things are available until you ask for them." Complacency elsewhere has been confused with satisfaction.

Miland demonstrated his ability to speak objectively about discrimination, something which has affected him personally. He spent his early years in Kentucky. He had to walk past several schools to attend all-Negro schools.

He recalled being forced to use one side entrance to his hometown theater and being admitted to only one balcony section, even though he could buy refreshments at the counter with whites.

He sincerely believes he has fulfilled the requirements of citizenship; yet he still cannot obtain housing and employment wherever he wants.

Miland's own feeling is that the racial problem will be solved only as people begin to change their attitude. This is the heart of the matter, and each person must accept the responsibility for himself.

However, he warned, "An injustice of 101 years will not be overcome all at once." People know what they should do; the problem is to do it.

He and Mrs. Olivier both expressed the feeling that social contact between the two races is necessary. Mrs. Olivier said, "The groups know so little about each other."

According to Miland, the success of the Civil Rights Bill depends on the attitude of the people. "You do not legislate morals." It will undoubtedly be rejected by some.

In answer to a question about the objectives of the NAACP, Miland replied the aim of that organization is to obtain equality for minority groups, especially in the areas of employment, housing and education.

Miland said, "A positive effect of demonstrations by the NAACP is that persons become aware of their own prejudices."

When asked whether Kennedy's assassination would hurt their cause, he answered that he thought the color and enthusiasm of Kennedy in the Civil Rights issue were gone and would not be recaptured in President Johnson.

Schroeder Cited For BB Brochure

Duane Schroeder, News Bureau Director, was awarded an All-American Third Place for his 1963 basketball brochure. The award was made by the Rev. Merritt Bomhoff in Thursday's convocation.

Schroeder

This award is given by the National Association of Inter-Collegiate Athletics. In 1961 Schroeder was awarded a second place award for his 1961 football brochure by the same organization.

In 1962 Schroeder received a second-place award for a development brochure he edited. This award was presented by the American College Public Relations Association.

Association For Retarded Children To Sponsor Film, 'A Child Is Waiting'

"A Child Is Waiting," a film sponsored by the Bremer County

Association for Retarded Children, will be shown in the Waverly Theater Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

This film is the story of one particular boy and his emotional effects on the lives of his parents, teachers and others.

Mrs. William Engelbrecht, chairman of the organization, said, "This is not only an educational film, but it is well produced."

Stan Kramer, producer, has also produced "On the Beach."

Special rates for students will be available for the film, which stars Judy Garland and Burt Lancaster.

Cutting Campi

By Katie Maahs

One of the biggest controversies among the students on Wartburg campus at present concerns whether we should continue our present system of compulsory convocation or whether we should switch to a voluntary convocation.

Students in a few other colleges, notably Coe College in Cedar Rapids, have been discussing the same problem. In a recent edition of "The Coe Cosmos" an article dealt rather sarcastically with the downfall of their required convo.

"Long has the Coe student body waited for the college administration to abandon the ridiculous policy of compulsory chapel attendance. Long has the student suffered the indignity of being forced to sit through a series of thoroughly worthless programs in order to avoid a fine of one dollar per hour for those missed.

"... Like grade school students we have been herded into the auditorium.

"... Fellow students rejoice. It has been rumored that the policy of compulsory attendance of these convocations is soon to be phased out of the college program. In the future that time usually wasted in the Sinclair Auditorium can be devoted to serious studying.

"Our patience has finally paid off. With just a little more patience we will no longer have our carefully planned schedules interrupted on Wednesday evening for some thoroughly superfluous address or artistic performance.

"... In any case, we are soon to see the end of that. Congratulations to the student body of Coe. The concept of liberal education has triumphed."

Texas Lutheran College in Seguin, Tex., has also caught the "let's-make-convo-voluntary" bug and indicates in "The Lone Star Lutheran" that it would like to have "freedom from convo" or a "Non-Compulsory Convocation."

"Hermes," the newspaper of Dana College in Blair, Neb., contains an article concerning the establishment of a student congregation on their campus.

The article, written by the Student Congregation Committee, presented some good arguments for a student congregation. But their main reason for beginning a student congregation was that their religious program needs to be unified and improved.

It was also emphasized that the students would have to actively support the congregation by "praying, thinking, talking, writing and acting."
